DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13, 38, and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Reynolds (US 6,190,420). Reynolds is considered to disclose the claimed invention comprising:

- a) monitoring an operating temperature of a drying apparatus (col. 2, l. 20) during a drying cycle of said drying apparatus; and
- b) applying a fabric treatment composition comprising a perfume (col. 2, l. 10) and a treatment material (col. 2, l. 2) to a fabric article (col. 2, l. 15) during said drying cycle of said drying apparatus (col. 2, l. 20), said application occurring after said drying apparatus has reached a first control operating temperature equal to or higher than about 60 degrees C (col. 4, ll. 35-37) and after said drying apparatus has reached a second operating temperature of less than about 60 degrees C (col. 4, ll. 35-37) but before said drying apparatus has reached a third operating temperature of about 25 degrees C.

It is noted that all driers have a heating sub-cycle (from ambient to operational temperature), a constant operational temperature sub-cycle, and cooling sub-cycle (from the operational temperature to ambient).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 12, 14-18, and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reynolds. Reynolds is considered to disclose the claimed invention, as rejected above, except for the claimed specific weight percentages, operating temperatures, boiling or flash point, or selected group material. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to provide specific values as claimed since the teachings of Reynolds would perform the invention as claimed regardless of the claimed specific values.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 12-18, 32, 38, and 39 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 10-19 of copending Application No. 10/839,549. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to claim the present application specific parameter values, since both applications would perform the claimed invention regardless of the claimed value.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
